

Adrian McDougall – Artistic Director Blackeyed Theatre

We've been bringing our shows to Bishop's Stortford for a number of years now and always found it an extremely friendly, well-supported venue. As a company that produces work as much for students as for mainstream theatre audiences, we continually look for ways to remain current and accessible to everyone, and we believe South Mill Arts' new name will do just that, helping to ensure the arts scene in Bishop's Stortford remains vibrant, accessible and diverse for many more years to come.